

Fixed Base Station

For long-range, reliable line marking

Save RTK subscription fee

RTK services can be rather costly in some states. In these states, using the Fixed Base Station solution can help you save money. The base station is offered at a one-time payment.

Move freely up to 15 mi. and connect directly to robot(s)

The Fixed Base Station solution allows you to move freely with your robot(s) and to connect multiple robots to the same base station. This allows you to line a field in one location, load the robot into the truck, drive to another location and continue working without worrying about the base station.

Save time - no need to move base station around

Once the base station has been installed in your location (eg. on a building), you can always connect to it from a range of 15 mi. This takes the hassle out of using a base station, which normally has to be put up in the exact same location at every use.
